SINCE my business is ADVERTISING, I am taking my own medicine by advertising myself.

I do not intend to boast about myself, but I do want to tell you what I think I can do.

There are many clever men in the field. I know I have the keenest competition to meet but that will not prevent me from getting my share of the business.

I feel so sure of being able to help some business men to do a greater business by adopting the style of advertising I believe in, that I will be willing to take a modest fee, as I am certain you would not like, in fairness to me, that I should render this service absolutely free of charge.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide, at 8-45 a.m., Standard Time on the 20th September 1916 was 29.8 0 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by .031 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by .138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the stream at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

MUNICIPAL STANDING COMMITTEE.

HINDU CEMETERY AT VADALA.

A meeting of the Municipal Standing Committee was held yesterday afternoon, when the Hon. Mr. S. C. Barodawalla occupied the chair.

The Committee considered a letter from the Municipal Commissioner dated 2nd September, which stated:—

"With reference to the Standing Committees' Resolutions forwarding for remarks (1) copy of a letter from Mr. Jivraj Goculdas Nensey and others, Trustees of the Vadala Cemetery, offering to hand over the cemetery to the Municipality, and (2) copy of a letter from Messrs. Ramji Shiwaji and others requesting that the residents of Vadala, Gowari and other neighbouring villages should be provided with a cemetery, I have the honour to to state that the new cemetery No. 37 at Vadala is intended for the Agris of Vadala, Naigaum, etc., and Messrs. Ramji Shiwaji and others can avail themselves of cemetery No. 45 (Charniwadi) Mahim Seashore which is at a convenient distance from Matunga. People from Sion, Gowari, and the Customs Office make use of cemetery No. 69 on the east side of Sion Road, which is called the Koli Cemetery. At the present moment there is, therefore, no pressing demand for a general Hindu cemetery in this part of the Island.

The land on the eastern side of the island from Antop Hill to Jackeria Bunder is taken up by the Port Trust Railway and Customs Office and there is no convenient site available on this side even if a proposal for a new cemetery is entertained. When, however, the area now under development in the northern part of the Island has been built upon, a new general cemetery for Hindus may become necessary.

Cemetery No. 37 is capable of being extended northwards and eastwards and the cost of extension, reclamation and enclosure by means of a wall will amount to Rs. 17,714 and if the Corporation approve of the proposal and if funds permit, the amount will be included in the next year's budget. There will then be no objection to taking over the cemetery but its management should be entrusted to a Committee in the same way as is done in the case of several other Municipal cemeteries."

It was resolved to forward the letter together with the letters from Mr. J. C. Nensey and others to the Corporation for orders.

THE HINDU MERCHANTS' CLUB.

OPENING CEREMONY.

The opening ceremony of the Hindu Merchants' Club was held on Saturday last at Mr. Thackersey Nandlal's bungalow, corner of Chowpaty, Mr. Hargovandas Jeewandas presiding. At the outset Mr. Matulal Atmaram, one of the Hon. Secretaries of the Club, read the Managing Committee's report which briefly is as under:—

"About 17 of the present members united themselves into a Club and started an institution of the name of the New Arya Mitra Mandal in January last and this Society held its first formal meeting on 19-2-16. This original band of 17 worked for the development of the Society and attracted many more members most of whom belong to the mercantile class of the Hindu community of Bombay, so that within 6 months of its birth the club could boast of a membership of 90 on its list. The objects of the club are to encourage social intercourse among the members of the different castes of the Hindu community, and those only are eligible for membership who are strict vegetarians."

The President in declaring the Club open thanked the members for the honour they had done him in electing him as their president. He said the club owed its success to the untiring efforts of their Hon. Secretaries, who in collaboration with the other original founders, had brought it to its present position. He hoped that it will not only afford a good centre of recreation for the members and their families, but being chiefly composed of merchants and businessmen, will give good opportunities to the members towards the development of their business with advantage to all.

Mr. Matulal Atmaram, the Hon. Secretary, then thanked the president on behalf of the members and announced that he (the president) had paid Rs. 1,000 and become a life member. Refreshments were served and the gathering dispersed at a late hour.

"FASCINATING FINANCE."

We invite the attention of the investing public of Bombay, and more particularly of the speculative section, to the letter which appears in another column from a correspondent who signs himself "Investor," regarding the circumstances of the floating of the Sir Shapurji Baroacha Mills, Limited for the purpose of acquiring the group of mills which went into liquidation recently while under the management of Messrs Greaves Cotton and Co. The story of the transaction of the sale of these mills to a syndicate of which Sir Sassoon David is a member and the proposed sale to the new company cannot be too carefully impressed on a public, which at the present moment is not in a highly discriminating mood where the presence of great names on a prospectus lends lustre to an enterprise, which it is thus thought must provide the opportunity for a successful excursion on the share market.

When the group of mills to be taken over by the new company went into liquidation Sir Sassoon David was appointed one of the two liquidators. He was at one time, it appears, responsible for a proposal to sell the property to a syndicate for less than thirty lakhs of rupees. This proposal fell through because better terms were offered by Sir Jacob Sassoon, a fact which the creditors of the companies naturally came to know. Public tenders were then invited and curiously enough the group of financiers led by Sir Sassoon David succeeded in outbidding Sir Jacob Sassoon, the only other tenderer, by Rs. 54,000, their tender being by that figure over Rs. 36 lakhs. It has to be presumed, of course, that Sir Sassoon David in his fiduciary position as trustee for the shareholders did his best in their interests and secured what he considered to be a fair value for the property. Now we find a few weeks later that a company, of which Sir Sassoon David is one of the Directors, is inviting the public to subscribe fifty lakhs for the purchase of these properties and making an attractive feature of the prospectus, that the Company "will own one of the largest spinning and weaving mills in Bombay, equipped with up-to-date machinery at a cost considerably below the real value." The syndicate bought the properties for Rs. 36,54,000. The public are invited to buy them at fifty lakhs and thus acquire a property at a figure considerably below its real value, the syndicate putting the tidy little profit of thirteen and a half lakhs into its pocket. Comment is almost superfluous The other members of the syndicate, of course, are not open to criticism. They are business men out to make a good business deal. But Sir Sassoon David, it appears to us, stands in a different category altogether, as in a minor degree does Sir Shapurji Broacha, who was one of the Directors of the old company. The unfortunate shareholders of the liquidated concerns, it seems to us, have a very substantial grievance against a liquidator who sells their interests in the month of August to himself and his friends, and is able to make a better bargain for the latter in the month of September by a margin of thirteen-and-a half lakhs of rupees, and actually baits the offer to the public with the attraction that the property is being acquired at a cost considerably below the real value. Sir Sassoon David can at least be congratulated on his frankness in allowing his name to be publicly associated with the transaction. Many men under such circumstances would have preferred to keep in the background. But Sir Sassoon David is made of sterner stuff.

We understand that, though the subscription list for the new company was to open yesterday, the issue had already been oversubscribed before the list opened officially. It may be thought, therefore, superfluous to make any suggestion to the public that the whole enterprise, so temptingly placed before them, requires very careful scrutiny before investment. But we presume it will not be long before the shares of this concern are unloaded on the market by some of the acute holders, and it may be of some avail to point out, for the benefit of frenzied amateur financiers, some of the features of this enterprise which suggest doubts as to whether the Company's shares would be worth the price to which they may possibly be inflated in a market whose atmosphere is somewhat exotic. That may be left to another occasion.

LORD CHELMSFORD'S OMISSION.

It is to be regretted that the Hon'ble Mr. B. N. Sarma's question relating to the forthcoming conference in London on Indian Emigration has not received as full treatment at the hands of Sir George Barnes as its importance deserved. Lord Chelmsford's speech early this month dealt exclusively with the conditions of recruitment here and conditions of labour abroad, and as to these, it is doubtless possible to devise ameliorative measures. But the mere regulation of these does not exhaust the problem of Indian emigrant labour. The crux of the whole matter is, what is to be the status of the Indian labourer after the period of service contracted for has expired? It is a clear answer to this question and a clear settlement of the constitutional issue involved that must be insisted upon. What is at the root of much of the trouble as to Indian emigrant labour is the failure in the past to settle this question of the future status of the Indian labourer as a citizen of the colony or dependency whose material resources he has helped to develop.

We all know that the prosperity of the Crown Colonies,—the development of the world's rubber market, for example—is mainly due to Indian labour. It is idle to contend that the mere mitigation of the conditions of labour would solve the problem. We are far from being disposed to grant that the Government of India could undertake the regulation of recruitment here or the conditions of labour abroad without incurring a responsibility which may prove beyond its capacity. But even admitting this is possible, the further question remains whether the Government should stop here and not find a permanent solution of the problem on the lines indicated by older statesmen, like the late Lord Salisbury and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and even so recently as 1908, by Colonel Seely (then under-Secretary for the Colonies). These statesmen approached the consideration of the problem of Indian emigrant labour not exclusively from the point of view of regulation of recruitment or conditions of labour, but also from the other standpoint. It seems worth while drawing attention to the declarations of these statesmen. In 1875, the late Lord Salisbury, as Secretary of State for India, wrote to the Government of India: "Above all things we must confidently expect as an indispensable condition of the proposed arrangement that the colonial laws and their administration will be such that Indian settlers, who have completed the terms of service to which they agreed as the return for the expense of bringing them to the Colonies will be in all respects free men, with privileges no whit inferior to those of any other class of Her Majesty's subjects resident in the Colonies." Had Lord Salisbury's warning been paid heed to, how much bitterness, racial antagonism and needless political conflict could have been avoided! What has made the problem seemingly so hard of solution was the neglect to keep in view the "indisputable condition" insisted upon by Lord Salisbury over forty years ago. Then, as up till very recently, the policy of patching without plan and without thought of the morrow has been in high favour. If the Government of India lost sight of the only sound policy in the matter, an Imperial statesmen of the standing and authority of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain did not. Addressing the Premiers of the self-governing Colonies assembled at the first of the great Imperial Conferences, he used words which bear repetition to-day:

"We ask you also to bear in mind the traditions of the Empire, which makes no distinctions in favour of or against race or colour; and to exclude by the reason of their colour, or by the reason of their race, all Her Majesty's Indian subjects, or even all Asiatics, would be an act so offensive to these peoples that it would be most painful. I am quite certain, to Her Majesty to have to sanction it. . . . The United Kingdom owns as its brightest and greatest dependency that enormous Empire of India, with 300,000,000 subjects, who are as loyal to the Crown as you are yourselves, and among them there are hundreds and thousands of men who are every whit as civilised as we are ourselves; who are, if that is anything, better born, in the sense that they have older traditions and older families who are men of wealth, men of cultivation, men of distinguished valour, men who have brought whole armies and placed them at the service of the Queen, and have in times of great difficulty and trouble.....saved the Empire by their loyalty. I say, you, who have seen all this cannot be willing to put upon those men a slight which I think is absolutely unnecessary for your purpose, and which would be calculated to provoke ill-feeling, discontent, irritation and would be most unpalatable to the feelings, not only of her Majesty the Queen, but of all her people."

Noble words, inspired by the truest Imperial comprehension, not only of the necessity of employing Indian labour for the development of the natural resources of sub-tropical regions, but of the "indisputable condition" upon which alone that labour can be recruited and employed. For reasons we need not pause to consider, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's solemn warning was unheeded by the Premiers of the self-governing Colonies in 1897, as 22 years earlier Lord Salisbury's warning was unheeded by the Government of India itself. It is impossible, in the retrospect, to acquit the Government of India on the charge of continued neglect to safeguard the interests of Indian labour, and far transcending in importance any temporary material interests, their political interests. In any view of the matter, it was the primary duty of the Government of India to have kept constantly in its own view, and to have kept constantly in the view of the Imperial Cabinet, the joint responsibility of the Imperial and Colonial Governments with regard to Indian labour. Whatever might have been the attitude of the Government of India, the principles enunciated by Lord Salisbury and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain were never lost sight of in England, by statesmen, in or out of office, occupying front rank. Mark the striking utterance of Colonel Seely in the House of Commons on July 31, 1908:

"If persons are admitted (into British Colonies) they must be given civil rights. 'Free or not at all' seems to be the soundest principle for the British Empire.....If any one is admitted under the British Flag, he must be a potential citizen, and must, sooner or later, be given rights with all other men."

We have ventured to call attention to these utterances of responsible statesmen for it seems to us above all things necessary that in any arrangements that may be made, the conditions they have laid down should be insisted upon. We have re-read Lord Chelmsford's speech, and as his Excellency omits to make any reference to the rights and status of Indian labourers, it is necessary that his attention should be drawn to the omission. We know Lord Hardinge would have pressed this view: Lord Chelmsford can possibly do no less.

Notes of the Day.

The Jutland Battle.

A very interesting report on the Jutland Battle has recently been written by Captain William S. Sims of the United States Navy, who has been described as "the creator of modern gunnery in the American Navy." Captain Sims discusses the strategy and tactics of the battle and his comments are, on the whole, favourable to the British, but he falls into one remarkable error in one of his criticisms of British tactics. "The contention of British writers," he says

"that the sacrifice of the battle cruiser squadron in fighting a delaying action against battleships, late in the afternoon, was justified in the hope of bringing on a general action, is not believed to be sound, and this for the simple reason that the military situation did not require the British fleet to fight a decisive action, or any action at all, because they already had practically as complete control of the sea as would have resulted from the defeat of the enemy fleet."

Not According to Nelson.

That wouldn't have done for Nelson,—to paraphrase the remark of the Waterloo veteran,—whose principle, that you should bring the enemy to action wherever you find him, get your teeth into him and hold on, is as sound to-day as it was a hundred years ago. That was the principle on which Craddock went to his glorious doom in the hope of achieving a definitely considered object. In the case of the Jutland Battle it is amazing that Captain Sims should lose sight of the important consideration that there was something more to be thought of than the mastery of the North Sea and that, apart from that, the object and destination of the German Fleet—if it had any,—was unknown and had to be defeated at any cost. What he has failed chiefly to consider is that the Jutland Battle put the German High Seas Fleet out of action for an indefinite time, prevented it from acting as auxiliary to Hindenburg's projected offensive in the Riga region, and gave the signal for the launching of the Russian offensive in Galicia. Our own belief is that it will be found when the truth becomes known that the Germans were out on a "joy ride" and anticipated running back to harbour without being caught by Jellicoe. That they were caught, badly mutilated and very nearly met their complete doom is an eternal triumph for the British Navy.

Corruption and Treachery.

It is gratifying to think that even one man has been brought to book and met his deserts for the treacherous crime of corruption in connection with war contracts. Five years' penal servitude, as sentences go, cannot be regarded as in any way too severe for a crime such as that for which Mr. Justice Low has sentenced an employee of the Army Clothing Department. But is is certainly a matter for regret that the contractors, who the Judge said, left the Court as "free but disgraced men" should have escaped. The difficulties of bringing the contractors to book are great, but if only the underlings who are their tools can be made to feel the perils of dishonesty, some greater degree of purity may be achieved.

Conditions in India.

In the early part of the present war there was grievous and colossal waste in England, much of which was due to dishonest practices which flourished by the lack of efficient organisation and supervision. We believe that has been largely cured and that the vast commissariat and supply services of the British Army now are a model of marvellous organisation, both efficient and economic. We wish the same could be said of this country. There is hardly a week but what one does not hear of some example of appalling waste of public money, by reason of the incompetence, or worse, of individuals and the inefficiency of organisation. If a really reliable and competent board of investigators were appointed to enquire into the every day working of the army supply system as it works at the present moment some startling facts would be brought to light.

Welfare Work.

Mr. Lloyd George contributes a preface to Miss E. D. Proud's book on "Welfare Work." The preface brings into prominence the fact that the extensive conversion of factories into munition factories during the war has been accompanied not only by great innovations in plant, machinery, and the uses of labour, but also by the introduction of "welfare" arrangements for the workers on a very large scale. It is interesting to note that there has for some time been a Welfare Department at the Ministry of Munitions, with Mr. B. Seebohm Rowntree at its head and it is under its inspiration and direction, with "reasonable financial encouragement for the employers, that canteens, cloak rooms, rest rooms and lavatories have been built, and a new and systematic attention to factory amenities is being widely diffused." The best employers are said to have found long ago that the only way to get such work done in something more than a haphazard way was to entrust it to definite officials and the Ministry of Munitions has done much to encourage the appointment, especially in cases where women are largely employed, of a lady "welfare secretary" or "welfare supervisor" not only in all the national factories but also in many controlled establishments. The result has been that courses of instruction and training for such positions are in progress at several universities, and "a new profession is growing rapidly into prominence."

Insanity Checked by War.

Sometime ago the "Lancet" pointed out the curious though beneficial effect of the present conditions of stress and storm in checking the growth of insanity. The annual report of the Belfast District Asylum, according to mail papers, records an extraordinary drop in the number of cases of mental disorder among women since the outbreak of war. The writer of the report is moved by this fact to remark that we may find "a great diminution in those neuratic disorders which form part of mental abnormality" The conclusion is a natural one when regard is had to the present activity of women as compared with the listlessness and ennui of pre-war days. An existence made up of reading, sewing, and scandal would, as someone has said, drive any healthy person to the devil or the madhouse.

The Holy of Holies.

Touching the recent abortive proposal to film a Cabinet meeting, which he describes as a very rude intrusion on the holy of holies of modern politics.—a writer in the "Manchester Guardian" points out how we are always some twenty years late in our knowledge of what goes on in the Cabinet, and how even then we get our news much watered down. Even if we can guess what Ministers are deciding, we do not know how they are deciding it,—who had the first word and, more to the point, who had the last. One reason is that Cabinet Ministers are not only sworn to secrecy, but are forbidden even to take a note of what goes on. It is remarkable, for example, says the writer, that we should not even yet know from anyone how exactly it felt to be in the same room with Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Chamberlain in the days of the "unauthorised programme." Of one Cabinet scene, indeed, we have full knowledge—we have been given, in words worthy of the occasion, a description of Mr. Gladstone's stately farewell to his colleagues. From earlier times we have a scene equally vivid though of a different temper,—Lord Melbourne asking, with his head over the banister, to be reminded what they had decided, because, "though it didn't matter what they said, it mattered above a bit that they should all say the same thing."

FASCINATING FINANCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The public issue of the Prospectus of the Sir Shapurji Bharucha Mills suggests a variety of considerations which the investing public have to keep before them. It will be interesting to trace the birth of the present company from the ashes of the group of Mills that went into liquidation recently and how the principal movers in the new concern came to be associated with it. All the mills forming the present company were under Messrs. Greaves Cotton and Co.'s management and they were under the control of one board of Directors among whom were Sir Sassoon J. David and Sir Shapurji Bharucha. When all these mills went into liquidation, after a certain amount of opposition from the shareholders, Sir Sassoon J. David was appointed one of the liquidators. Now, it was the liquidators' duty to secure the best means of disposing of the property. Several attempts were made by auction sale, to dispose of the property, but without success.

Ultimately a proposal was started by which certain business gentlemen headed by Sir S. J. David were to purchase the whole group for less than thirty lacs of rupees. This attempt proved abortive as the creditors of the company were offered better terms by Sir Jacob Sassoon. It was then proposed to invite public tenders for the sale of the mill property. There were only two tenders, one by Sir Jacob Sassoon for thirty-six lacs and other by Sir S. J. David for thirty-six lacs and fifty-four thousand.

The liquidators, who were appointed to look after the shareholders' interest, decided, as a trustee for the ruined shareholders mill property was sold to the syndicate led by Sir S. J. David, one of the liquidators and Sir Shapurji one of the Directors of the different companies.

Now we come to the most interesting part of the whole business. It was about the middle of August that the mill property was disposed to the new syndicate. Presumably Sir Sassoon J. David considered, as a trustee for the ruined shareholders of the five mills, that the offer by his own syndicate for Rs. 3,654,000 was a very full and fair value for the mill property. To-day, five weeks after the liquidators' sale, we find Sir Sassoon J. David and Sir Shapurji Bharucha inviting public subscriptions for the same concern for fifty lacs and telling the public what a cheap investment they are securing by subscribing a sum of money which incidentally leaves the syndicate a profit of fourteen lacs of rupees.

The question naturally arises as to whether or no somebody has been or is to be the sufferer. Is it the shareholders of the Greaves Mills or the prospective investors in the new concern? The spectacle of Sir Sassoon J. David advising in August his shareholders, for whom he was a trustee, to part with their holding to himself and friends for thirty-six lacs and in the following month of September inviting public subscriptions at an enhanced valuation of fifty lacs is really too fascinating even in these days of frenzied finance.

How Sir S. J. David reconciles the two distinct transactions, one as a fiduciary for the old shareholders and the other, as a prospective benefactor of the investing public, would form a most illuminating chapter in the financial history of Bombay commercial enterprise, if it could be elucidated.—Yours etc.,

BATTLE IMMINENT IN DOBRUDJA,

BRITISH RAIDS ON TRENCHES.

With the renewal of the Russian offensive in Galicia the brunt of the fighting has been transferred from southwards to northwards of Halicz where General Stcherbatcheff is vigorously attacking the Germans and Turks and a great battle is raging on the river Narayuvka since Friday. On Saturday the Russians occupied the whole of the first lines. The Russian infantry on Sunday again attacked simultaneously in nine sectors and three front lines of trenches were seized.

The Russians have carried several heights in the region of Shibeni Preva Mountain in the Carpathians.

It is stated that skilful strategic movements by the Russian and Roumanian troops in Dobrudja, have resulted in such shortening of the front that the enemy's position is critical. A battle is imminent.

Bad weather interfered with the operations on the Somme.

The French made progress east of Berny. General Haig reports that in the neighbourhood of Richebourg-l'Avove the British entered enemy trenches at three places, capturing prisoners and inflicting many casualties.

At the opening of the States General Queen Wilhelmina declared that she was firmly resolved to defend the independence and rights of Holland. The Army was being constantly strengthened.

General Smuts reports that the enemy have been dislodged from the Uluguru Hills. West of these Hills General Vandeventer is approaching the Great Ruaha river, driving the strong enemy detachment before him.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 19.

A great battle on the River Narayuvka, northwards of Halicz, has been raging for three days. The Russians attacked on Saturday morning. Hand-to-hand fighting took place and repeated German counter-attacks were held up.

The struggle for the village of Svistelniky eastwards of river, was very costly, the village changing hands six times.

In the other section the Germans rushed back to their trenches with the Russians at their heels. Armoured cars played a most prominent part and the whole of the first line trenches were occupied on Saturday. The Russian infantry on Sunday again attacked simultaneously in nine sectors and the front three lines of trenches were seized. Fighting is still very severe.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 18.

Fighting extends from the neighbourhood of Monfalcone twelve miles north to the east of Goriaia and the north of Oppachiasella.

The Italians advanced 2½ miles and took the village of Sangrado.

HEAVY AND CONTINUOUS RAINS.

RAIDS ON ENEMY TRENCHES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 19.

General Haig this afternoon reforts:—In the neighbourhood of Richebourg-L'Avoue we entered the enemy trenches at three places capturing prisoners and inflicting many casualties. Our casualtics were very slight.

Heavy and continuous rains have fallen during the last twenty-four hours and the general situation is unchanged. Since yesterday evening five more of our aeroplanes have failed to return.

ATTACK ON MARTINPUICH REPULSED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 20.

General Haig in a communiqué last night reported that the situation was unchanged.

A local enemy attack east of Martinpuich was repulsed. There has been considerable artillery activity south of the Ancre. A hostile balloon was felled by gunfire east of Ransart. An enemy ammunition depot was exploded by gunfire in the neighbourhood of Hill 60.

ENEMY ATTACKS IN CHAMPAGNE.

REPULSED EVERYWHERE WITH SERIOUS LOSSES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, Sept. 19.

This afternoon's communiqué says:—Bad weather has interfered with the operations on the Somme.

We have made progress east of Berny. Enemy attacks in Champagne have been repulsed with serious losses. Two enemy counter-attacks against Morthomme failed completely. Enemy attacks in Champagne included five against the Russian sector. They were everywhere checked by the barrage of machine-gun fire.

BAD WEATHER HINDERS OPERATIONS

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, Sept. 20.

CAPTURE OF "WONDER-WORK."

ENEMY ATTACK MELTED UNDER BRITISH FIRE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 19.

Reuter's correspondent with British Headquarters states that the capture of Danube Trench and "Wonderwork" on Friday evening was a daring feat. The infantry rushed a hundred and fifty yards across No Man's Land and captured the position in less than an hour. Two counter-attacks were made at night to recover this important tactical position. One demonstrated the demoralisation of the enemy. The Boches advanced reluctantly, and began throwing bombs wildly at a distance of two hundred yards and the attack melted under our fire.

The other counter-attack reached the trenches and rough fighting ensued in which the British bombers disposed of fifteen hundred grenades and beat the enemy back.

BRITISH CAPTURE MOUQUET FARM.

EFFECTIVE AID OF "TANKS."

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 19.

Reuter's correspondent at Headquarters wires that detailed reports show that the "tanks" greatly contributed to the brilliant British success and the gallantry of their crews is universally commented upon. They went fearlessly into action against positions which might have been the despair of the infantry. Two "tanks" gave most effective aid in clearing up High Wood, which had long defied infantry assaults.

FAILURE OF GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS.

German counter-attacks throughout the battle were few and futile. The chief counter-attack was delivered in the vicinity of Pozieres on Saturday morning. It was unfortunately timed as the British had assembled in the trenches preparatory to attacking and they repulsed the Germans with very heavy losses.

The capture of Mouquet Farm on Saturday night was a brilliant exploit. It is a warren of dugouts communicating with the upper works and bristling with machine-guns. The assailants did not attempt a frontal attack, but dug a trench around it and blew in entrances to the subterranean system and bombed the defenders into surrender.

COMPLETE VICTORY FIRST.

THEN PEACE TALK.

M. BRIAND ON FRANCE'S DETERMINATION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, Sept. 20.

Replying in the Chamber to Socialist complaints regarding the prolongation of the war and the sacrifices of French lives, M. Briand, the Premier, paid a tribute to the efforts of the Allies and was especially eloquent regarding Britain's glorious role in France in addition to guarding the seas.

When the Socialist Brizon interrupted, M. Briand sprang to his feet and recalled Germany's aggression and France's effort in repelling the invader, and said, "You choose this moment to speak of peace. What an insult to our dead."

France, continued M. Briand, would not think of saving money nor even blood in exchange for an immediate peace which today would be humuliating. Peace and justice in the world were only possible with complete victory.

The speech created a profound impression in the Chamber and was greeted with prolonged cheering.

HOW FLERS WAS CAPTURED

BRITISH ANTICIPATE ENEMY MASSED ATTACK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 20.

The "Pioneer's" correspondent cables:—London, September 18:—The new British advance anticipated a massed counter-attack prepared by Marshal Hindenburg to smash the centre of our lines through Flers. Some new divisions were found about this point. Our troops were reinforced to deal with them. The capture of the line of which Flers was the centre and headquarters was a serious blow, as it prevented an oblique drive coming in on Ginchy and led to the further encirclement of Combles.

We have captured important lateral roads leading to the main Bapume-Peronne road. By the advance of our line at Courcelette we now begin also to encircle Thiepval. There will now occur a sort of siege-battle at three points, Peronne, Combles and Thiepval; very soon perhaps at Chaulnes also.

SUCCESS OF ARMOURED CARS.

IMPOTENCE OF ENEMY'S INFANTRY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 20.

A "Pioneer's" special cable says:—

The employment of armoured wagons equipped with artillery and machine-guns proved a huge success. The enemy infantry's impotence against them had a very demoralising effect. The wagons run on caterpillar feet, the caterpillar endless band used for transport wagons for years. It is the construction of the wagon and the armament that is unknown except to the Sappers. The Germans will reply with big guns but as they have lost the command of the air, they will not succeed especially as the wagons are used suddenly in an attack. A military writer in the "Petit Parisien" concludes from the booty as well as the prisoners captured by the British that the enemy's retreat was somewhat precipitate and adds significantly that the Mouquet work which for several weeks defied all assaults, was actually captured in one rush. All this points decidedly to something like the breath of a panic.

CAMPAIGN IN EAST AFRICA.

VENDEVENTER NEARING THE RUAHA.

ENEMY DISLODGED FROM ULUGURU HILLS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 18.

General Smuts states that the occupation of Lindi and Mikindani was effected by a naval force, marines and African troops. The small German forces retired inland. The enemy have been dislodged from the Uluguru Hills. He has lost many men, quantities of stores and most of his artillery and ammunition. Remnants of the enemy retired south-eastward, abandoning 65 Germans, 34 of whom were sick and several Boer prisoners.

West of the Uluguru Hills, General Vandeventer is approaching the Great Ruaha river in the direction of Mahenge, driving the strong enemy detachment before him.

HIGH COURT.

FOURTH CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

KIDNAPPING OF A GIRL OF 11.

FIRST TWO ACCUSED SENTENCED,

KING-EMPEROR v. (1) GAFURSHA HASHUMSHA, (2) SAYED HABIB SHAH (3) SAYED BADSHAH MIYA MALOOKSHAH (4) SAYED ISMAILSHAH HYDERSHAH.

(Before Justice Macleod & a Common Jury.)

The trial of the accused for conspiring to kidnap and in pursuance of the conspiracy of kidnapping a girl aged eleven, on 5th August 1916, was continued on Wednesday.

Mr Kazi Kabirddin appeared for the Crown.

Mr. Velinkar with Mr. Nadkarni instructed by Messrs. Mulla and Mulla solicitors appeared for the defence. Mr. Azad appeared for the fourth accused.

The case for the Crown as well as the defence have already appeared in our columns.

The jury returned an unanimous verdict of "guilty" against accused 1 and 2 and of "not guilty" with regard to 3 and 4.

Before his Lordship passed sentence on accused 1 and 2, Mr. Velinkar on their behalf submitted to his Lordship that the accused were ignorant men and they thought that the authority of the Jamat was above everything. He therefore submitted that a very lenient sentence be meted out to the accused.

LAW V ORDER OF JAMAT.

His Lordship addressing the accused said that they were convicted of a very serious offence, but there were circumstances which their counsel had pleaded in mitigation or punishment. Perhaps the accused thought that the direction of the Jamat was sufficient authority to break the law. But this case was a warning to them that law is above the Jamat. It was fortunate that no harm was done to the girl. His Lordship thought that their locking up the girl with the fourth accused was the worst feature of the case. If anything had happened to the girl, he should have punished them very severely. Taking all these things into consideration his Lordship will not imprison them except for this day. His Lordship also ordered that each of them should pay a fine of Rs. 1,000 and in default of payment should undergo imprisonment for six months.

His Lordship ordered accused 3 and 4 to be acquitted.

GRIEVOUS HURT.

BOTH ACCUSED SENTENCED,

EMPEROR v. (1) GAFFOR VALI MAHOMED (2) CHEDA LALLMOHOMED.

The accused in this case were two Mahomedans who were charged with the offence of voluntarily causing grievous hurt to one Fazul Sumar by means of a dangerous weapon viz. a penknife, on the 19th of July 1916. They were committed to the Sessions by Mr. G. R. Khairaz, Third Presidency Magistrate on the 11th of August 1916.

Mr. T. M. Kajiji appeared for the prosecution.

The accused were not defended.

The prosecution case was that on the night of the 19th of July 1916, at about 9-30 p.m. Fazul Sumar and one Amoo were sitting in Fazul's room at Bapty Road, Two Tanks. The second accused called out from the road Fazul's name. Fazul went down by the front staircase and saw the second accused and another man nemed Isakh on the road. After about two minutes the first accused came there and interrupted Fazul's talk with the second accused and said to Fazul "What have you got to say now"? Immediately after this he commenced abusing Fazul and took out a penknife from his waist and stabbed him with it on his forehead, right arm, stomach, left arm and left ear. The second accused had seized Fazul by the hand while the first accused was stabbing him. Fazul fell down unconscious after he was stabbed. He was taken to the J. J. Hospital in a collapsing state. His condition was serious but after an operation his condition improved. The second accused was a friend of the first accused and the first accused was not on good terms with Fazul because he had refused to give false evidence in his favour in an assault case.

The defence of the accused was that they were drunk.

Evidence for the prosecution was then led.

The jury returned an unanimous verdict of guilty against both the accused and his Lordship sentenced the first accused to undergo rigorous imprisonment for four years and the second for two years.

MUNICIPAL STABLE CASE.

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST C. I. D.

DEFENCE APPLIES FOR TRANSFER.

At the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, the Chief Presidency Magistrate heard arguments in the notice matter in which Inspector Ragunath Rao of the C.I.D. was, at the instance of Mr. B. M. Jayakar, called upon to show cause why the Municipal case against Mr. Jayakar on a charge of criminal breach of trust should not be transferred from the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate to any other Court. Mr. Balubhoy T. Desai appeared in support of the notice while Mr. Crawford appeared for the Municipality.

Mr. Jayakar, in his information alleged:—

I, it M. Jayker, the accused in Case No. 807/P of 1916, beg to apply to your Worship as follows:—

That I was placed before your Worship by Mr. Raghunathrao, the Police Inspector in C.I.D., and asked for a remand in Police custody. At that time my pleader made an application to release me on bail, but your Worship refused the application on the ground that after hearing Mr. Raghunathrao, you had reasons to believe that I had committed the offence.

That on the 12th of August 1916, I was placed before your Worship on a charge sheet charging me with having committed an offence under section 408 I.P.C. One John Carroll, a Municipal Sub-Inspector, was also placed before your Worship by Mr. Raghunathrao on a charge sheet charging him with having committed an offence under section 408 I.P.C., it being case No. 868/P of 1916. On that day an application was made on my behalf by my pleader to release me on bail, but that application was refused on the ground that after hearing Mr. Crawford, your Worship had reasons to believe that I had committed the offence.

That the case against John Carroll was heard on the 17th of August 1916, and subsequent dates and your Worship delivered the judgment on the 5th of September 1916. Your Worship convicted John Carroll and sentenced him to suffer rigorous imprisonment for four months and to pay a fine of Rs. 25 in default a further term of one month's rigorous imprisonment. Your Worship has believed the evidence of the Municipal Muccadum, Vithal Hari, and the Municipal Begari, who were working under the said Muccadum.

The Municipal stable is situated in E. Division and the godown of the contractor is situated in B. Division.

That the offence which I am alleged to have committed, is either in E. or B. Division, which are in the jurisdiction of the Mazagon Police Court.

That from the inquiries I have made, I am informed that the C. I. D. as a rule, choose your Worship's Court, and in my case they have chosen your Worship's Court. In the usual course the C. I. D. Inspector ought to have taken the case to the Mazagon Police Court.

That the said Municipal Muccadum Vithal Hari is a witness against me, and that your Worship has believed the evidence given by him in the case against John Carroll. I am informed that the same Muncipal Begaris are also witnesses against me, whose evidence your Worship has believed in the case against John Carroll.

That your Worship also believed that John Carroll had received moneys from the contractor, even though there was no evidence that the contractor gave any money to John Carroll, and even though no questions were asked to the contractor's mehta whether any moneys were given to John Carroll.

That after your Worship delivered judgment in John Carroll's case, my pleader requested your Worship to transfer the case against me, of your own accord, to some other magistrate, but your Worship declined to do so and asked them to put in a written application. Your Worship inquired of my pleader whether he had any objection to your Worship's sending my case to Mr. Khairaz for trial, to which my pleader said that he had no objection to your Worship's sending the case to any Court.

That on the 5th of September, 1916, on the application of my pleader to release me on bail on the ground of my father's illness, your Worship was kind enough to release me on bail of Rs. 500 and a surety in like amount; and I am still on bail.

As far as I know the circumstances of my case are similar to those of John Carroll's case, and your Worship has already formed an opinion about these circumstances, which is prejudicial to my defence.

All the circumstances, above stated, have caused in my mind a reasonable apprehension that your Worship is biassed against me and I further apprehend that I will not get justice at your hands.

Under the circumstances, I apply to your Worship to transfer the case against me from your Worship's Court to the Court of any other Presidency Magistrate.

FURTHER ALLEGATIONS.

In a second statement filed yesterday the accused further alleged:—

I, the applicant, in the above matter on solemn affirmation, say as follows:—

That after I filed my application in the above matter, on or about 13th of September, 1916, I saw Inspector Raghunathrao going into the Chamber of your Worship.

That at the time, when Mr. Crawford opposed the application of bail made by my pleader, your Worship put forward certain statements saying "Mr. Crawford you say so and so, etc."

Mr. Desai said the witnesses were completely under the influence of the C.I.D. and they had alleged that they had been made to sit down from day-to-day in the C.I.D. office and given no food there.

Mr. Crawford said the allegations made were monstrous.

The Magistrate said Mr. Raghunath Rao had been to his chamber during the pendancy of the suit but he did no remember the date and Mr. Raghunath Rao had come there for some departmental matter.

The Magistrate said he would pass orders later on.

The Non-cathartic Nature-cure for Constipation

Helps the System to Cure Itself.

You cannot cure constipation by violent methods. Violence is never effective against nature. That is why the use of morning salts and purgative pills so easily becomes a habit. These things do not cure the trouble; they only force matters, and in so doing weaken the bowels till natural action becomes impossible, and you have to go on taking your pills or salts indefinitely. Compare Dr. Cassell's Instant Relief. This great tonic laxative helps nature by strengthening the bowels, natural action is restored, and a cure effected which is real and lasting.

Dr. CHAS. F. FORSHAW, D.Sc., F.R.M.S., a well-known British Scientist, writes:—"Never take Salines or Purgatives for Constipation—to force Bowel action is to aggravate the trouble and create the Constipation habit. I recommend as a superior and convenient treatment Dr. Cassell's Instant Relief."

Take Dr. Cassell's Instant Relief for constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, sick headache, dizziness, specks before the eyes, flatulence and windy spasms, acidity, heartburn, impure blood, and that dull, heavy feeling which is a sure indication of liver troubles.

Prices: As. 14. and Rs. 2.2, from all Chemists and Bazaars, or direct from the Sole Agents for India, J. Murray and Co., Ltd., P.O. Box 303, Bombay.

Dr. Cassell's Instant Relief is the companion to Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Purity is guaranteed.
